

German Summer Work

German II and German III:

Students moving into German II and German III will need to check in regularly via OnCampus. In OnCampus, Ms. Weldon will post information regarding grammar practice exercises (via Duolingo or Conjuguemos). In addition, each level will be reading a context-based novel and completing vocabulary definitions and answering questions about the text. This should be done weekly (a little at a time), to prevent the work building up until the end of the summer.

Students in German II and III will receive their books and sign into Duolingo (or switch grade levels, if necessary) before the end of the school year, but instructions for creating your account and joining the class will be posted in a PDF file on the OnCampus page. Students will already have Conjuguemos accounts. It is important that students check into OnCampus at least once per week (working around vacations as needed) to see what grammar exercises are assigned on one of the platforms and to find chapter reading guides for the class novel.

Students should feel free to contact Ms. Weldon at any time via OnCampus message if there are any questions or if they have any difficulty using their Duolingo account. Please do so sooner rather than later, so you can stay current with the summer work.

German I:

Any students beginning German I next year are welcome to join the German I Summer Review in Duolingo to get a little exposure to vocabulary and basic grammar. This is optional and will not be graded. Students entering German I should feel free to email Ms. Weldon with any questions, or just to say "Guten Tag!" at melissaweldon@concordiaprepschool.org

Students should join the appropriate classroom using the following links (but please consult the PDF as well for information on adding the app to your phone, if you wish, and proper setup of your account).
